SBA Disaster Loans Available Following Secretary of Agriculture Disaster Declaration in Maine

ATLANTA - The U.S. Small Business Administration announces today that federal economic injury disaster loans are available to small businesses, and most private, non-profit organizations of all sizes located in the State of Maine as a result of excessive snow and high winds that occurred on December 1, 2007 through April 25, 2008.

Small businesses and most private, non-profit organizations in the following counties are eligible to apply: Androscoggin, Franklin, Kennebec, Lincoln, Oxford, Sagadahoc, Somerset and Waldo in the State of Maine.

“When the Secretary of Agriculture issues a disaster declaration to help farmers recover from damages and losses to crops, the Small Business Administration issues a declaration to assist small businesses and most private, non-profit organizations affected by the same disaster,” said Frank Skaggs, Director of SBA Field Operations Center East.

Under this declaration, SBA’s Economic Injury Disaster Loan program is available to farm-related and nonfarm-related small business concerns, small agricultural cooperatives, and most private, non-profit organizations of all sizes that suffered financial losses as a direct result of this disaster. Farmers and ranchers are not eligible to apply to SBA.

Eligible small businesses and private non-profit organizations may qualify for loans up to $2 million. These loans are available at a 4 percent interest rate with loan terms up to 30 years. SBA determines eligibility for the program based on the size of the entity, type of activity and its financial resources. Loan amounts and terms are set by SBA and are based upon each applicant’s financial condition. Under this disaster declaration, SBA cannot provide loans to agricultural producers.
