Disaster Assistance Available for Small Businesses

Sacramento, CA – Small, non-farm businesses in 11 Kansas counties (plus neighboring counties in Missouri and Oklahoma) are eligible to apply for low-interest disaster loans from the U. S. Small Business Administration (SBA). These loans offset economic losses because of reduced revenues caused by excessive rain, flash flooding, flooding, high winds and a freeze that occurred from March 27 through May 31, 2009, announced Alfred E. Judd, Director of SBA’s Disaster Field Operations Center - West.

Primary Kansas Counties: Cherokee, Cowley and Sumner;

Neighboring Kansas Counties: Butler, Chautauqua, Crawford, Elk, Harper, Kingman, Labette and Sedgwick;

Neighboring Missouri Counties: Jasper and Newton;

Neighboring Oklahoma Counties: Craig, Grant, Kay, Osage and Ottawa.

“SBA eligibility covers both the economic impacts on businesses dependent on farmers and ranchers that have suffered agricultural production losses caused by the disaster and businesses directly impacted by the disaster,” Judd said.

Small, non-farm businesses, small agricultural cooperatives and most private, non-profit organizations of any size may qualify for Economic Injury Disaster Loans (EIDLs) of up to $2 million to help meet financial obligations and operating expenses which could have been met had the disaster not occurred.

“Eligibility for these working capital loans is based on the financial impact of the disaster only and not on any actual property damage. These loans have an interest rate of 4%, a maximum term of 30 years, and are restricted to small businesses without the financial ability to offset the adverse impact without hardship,” Judd added.

Businesses primarily engaged in farming or ranching are not eligible for SBA disaster assistance. Agricultural enterprises should contact the Farm Services Agency (FSA) about the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) assistance made available by the Secretary’s declaration.
